Stories to Remember About Women in Virginia

Celebrating America's 400th Anniversary

Through dance and narration, the audience learns:

- About the first settlers and the European styles they brought with them that continued to influence the New World

- The many roles played by the nation's first "First Lady," Martha Washington

- The legend of Pocahontas

- The comfort and inspiration received from Negro Spirituals
- About Annabella Gibson Jenkins' heroic care for the wounded on the Civil War battlefields

- How suffragettes Alice Paul, Lucy Burns and Doris Stevens' imprisonment and force feeding swung public opinion behind the 19th amendment to the United States Constitution

- Cultural impact of singers Patsy Cline
- and Ella Fitzgerald

Kathy Harty Gray Dance Theatre (KHGDT) is a professional, lyrical dance company focused on preserving, sharing and advancing modern dance through American stories and the rich diversity of our immigrant population.

Artistic Director and Founder Kathy Harty Gray, a Juilliard graduate with an MEd from the University of Virginia, brings more than 30 years of studio and college teaching and choreographic experience to her presentations.
